

Say No to Dirty Energy!

Proposition 23 was put on the ballot to undo California's trailblazing efforts to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and create a new economy driven by clean, renewable energy. Prop 23 would be a dangerous step backwards for our state, but a profitable one for the Texas oil titans who are spending millions to scare Californians into voting for it.

EHC has joined the grassroots movement to stop the oil titans who want to keep us dependent on dirty energy. Our partners in this movement – Van Jones, Dolores Huerta, and Pam Tau Lee – are uniting communities across California against the dirty energy initiative. They've asked us to share this urgent message with you and other EHC members.

Thanks for supporting a clean energy future!

Dear Friend,

Most people still haven't heard about Proposition 23 – the Dirty Energy Prop – and how greedy Texas Oil companies want to pollute California's air and cripple our clean energy economy.

That's why the three of us – Van Jones, Dolores Huerta, and Pam Tau Lee – have come together to say "NO to Prop 23!" We've never stood together on a single issue before, but we're standing together on this. And we're joining with Communities United Against the Dirty Energy Prop, an amazing coalition reaching out to Latino, Black, and Asian/Pacific Islander communities all over the state.

We just learned about an incredible $50,000 challenge grant. If Communities United can raise $50,000, that gets immediately doubled to $100,000 by a generous grant from Kat Taylor and Tom Steyer, the founders of One California Bank, whose mission is to provide opportunity for low-income Californians.

Our goal is to match that grant in 23 hours. Can you give \$23 right now to stop Prop 23? Your money could be matched, dollar for dollar! But only if enough people give right now.

Your contribution will help get the word out to voters of color across the state. The Communities United coalition has started phone calling, mailing, and door knocking millions of households. But they can't finish the job without additional funds.

Make no mistake, Texas Oil companies will spread tricks and lies aimed at our communities. Help expose those lies and make sure all Californians know to vote No on 23.

Please give \$23 \(or more\) right now to stop Prop 23.

In Fierce Love,
Van Jones, Dolores Huerta and Pam Tau Lee

P.S. Communities United has launched the Clean Energy Tour, the first ever all-solar-powered hip hop tour, that will carry the message to people throughout the state that clean energy and a green economy are the way forward!

Communities United is organizing events and rallies throughout the state to shame the big Texas Oil companies for their dirty business.
