In November voters in San Diego County will be asked to decide on Measure A, a proposal from the San Diego Association of Governments (SANDAG) that creates a half-cent sales tax increase.

The increase is expected to generate more than $18 billion over the next 40 years to fund highway and transit projects, and would legally bind SANDAG to complete them. The measure requires a two-thirds vote to pass.

YES ON MEASURE A

SANDAG and most of its board members support it, including Council Member Todd Gloria and County Supervisor Ron Roberts.

NO ON MEASURE A

Most of the opponents are part of the Quality of Life Coalition, made up of:

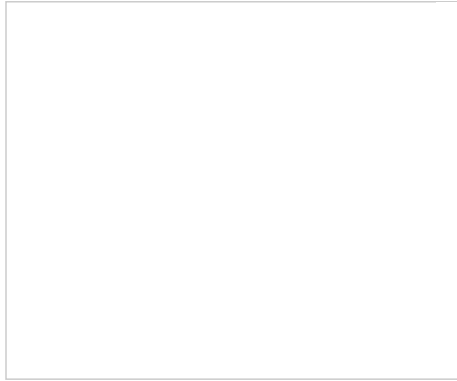

- Climate Action Campaign
- Sierra Club
- Bike SD
- Democrats for Environmental Action
- League of Conservative Voters
- California Nurses Association
- Environmental Health Coalition
- Mayor Faulconer is part of the SANDAG board, but he opposes it.

Opponents of SANDAG's Measure-A claim language is misleading
